During the first 2 paychecks after your enrollment takes effect, double deductions will be taken for premium contributions, in order to cover the 28 day extension of benefits which is provided when your employment terminates or drops below eligibility requirements.

If your health deductions are not taken from the paycheck when your insurance becomes effective, there will be more than 2 double deductions taken to pay for your health insurance back to your effective date.

You will be automatically placed in the Pre-tax Health Insurance Program unless you sign a waiver.

A decision on health coverage must be made within 60 days of employment or you will not be able to be covered by health insurance for another 5 pay periods and your deductions will be taken on an after tax basis for the duration of the plan year (to be determined by the date the Benefits Office receives your completed forms).

Flexible Spending Accounts (FSAs)

By enrolling in a Flexible Spending Account (FSA) you authorize the Research Foundation to deduct, on a pretax basis, a specified amount from your pay throughout the year, and to deposit this money in an account that is used to reimburse you for eligible health care or dependent care expenses. Employees’ may enroll in either a Health Care Spending Account or a Dependent Care Spending Account or both.

Because of the tax advantages of these programs, the IRS requires you to continue participation throughout the calendar year for which you enroll, unless you have a qualifying “change in status” as defined by the IRS. You must carefully estimate your expenses for the year, since any money left in your account at the end of the year will be forfeited if not used.

You have 60 days from your hire date to elect to enroll in these programs and you must re-enroll in these programs annually during open enrollment (usually in November) in order to participate for the following calendar year.

- Health Care Flexible Spending Accounts – contribute up to a maximum of $2,550 to pay for uninsured eligible medical, dental, vision care and prescription drug expenses. Employees need to have completed 6-months of service from date of hire and expected to be employed for at least one year following the date of enrollment or re-enrollment.

- Dependent Care Flexible Spending Accounts – contribute up to a maximum of $5,000 depending upon a participant’s tax filing status, to pay for eligible child, adult and elder care expenses for eligible dependents. Employees need to have completed 6-months of service from date of hire. RF will provide a lump-sum subsidy for employees who are enrolled in a dependent care flexible spending account. The amount of the subsidy will depend on your annual RF earnings at the time you enroll.
